National Strategy Leading the Way:

Manufacturing × Computing Power × AI Powering a New Global Healthcare Engine

EXPO · TAIWAN

2025 台灣醫療科技展

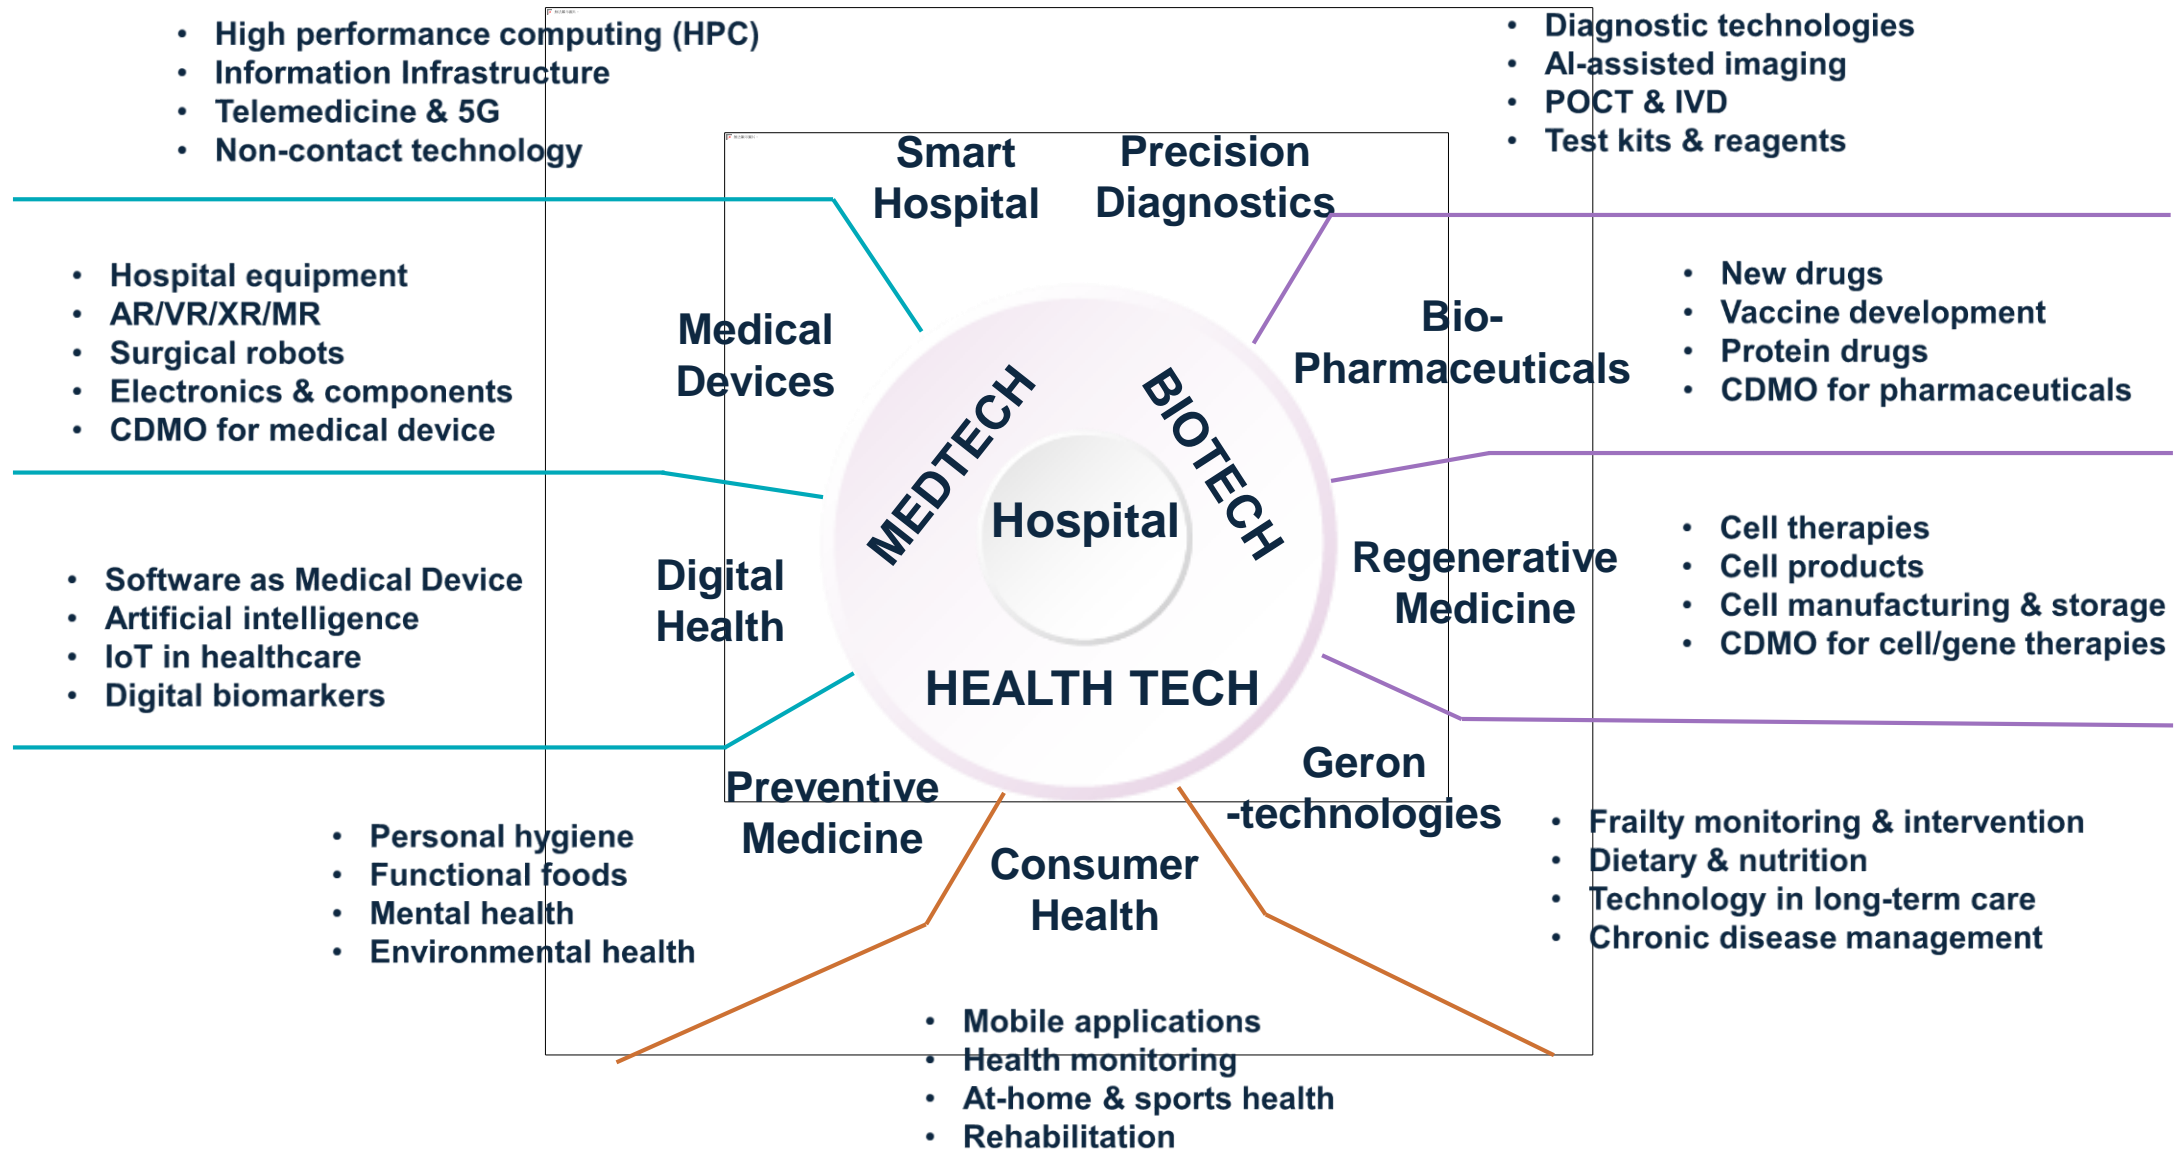

At the 9th Healthcare+ Expo Taiwan, international buyer engagement expanded from Southeast Asia to the Middle East, Europe, North America, and recently to Africa and South America. This growth reflects Taiwan's strong competitiveness and integration into global supply chains, with the exhibition serving as a direct platform to connect innovations with global healthcare markets.

Building on world-leading semiconductor manufacturing, advanced AI computing capabilities, and strong clinical expertise, Taiwan has established a Manufacturing + Computing Power + Medical AI ecosystem, positioning itself as a critical hub in the global medical technology supply chain.

The Expo was attended by President Lai Ching-te, Chairperson of the Expo Kuo-yu Han, IBMI President Chi-Huey Wong, senior government officials, and leaders from Taiwan's biomedical and healthcare sectors. This year it gather over 200 global association leaders, hospital presidents, and corporate representatives, fostering cross-border procurement, clinical collaboration, and alignment with international quality standards.
