A Century of Achievement: Inspiring Brilliance, Embracing World-Class Excellence

Fundraising goal: NTD 3 billion

Since assuming office, President Chen Wen-Chang has set the vision of “A Century of Achievement: Inspiring Brilliance, Embracing World-Class Excellence” and proposed eight key strategies for university development. These strategies include “Optimizing campus development with a smart and sustainable mindset,” “Advancing key research fields and striving for a global leadership position,” “Enhancing International collaboration capabilities,” “Strengthening enrollment strategies and international education connections,” “Fostering impactful research by faculty and students,” “Empowering students’ self-directed learning and research capabilities,” “Completing the centennial planning and enhancing alumni engagement,” “Enriching financial planning and fundraising efforts”.

As National Taiwan University approaches its centennial in 2028, the successful implementation of various academic initiatives and policies relies on sufficient funding. We sincerely hope that all members of the NTU community will join forces in raising a minimum of NTD 3 billion for the NTU Centennial Fund, supporting the construction of a smart and sustainable campus, as well as the planning of each school campus. Together, we will lay the foundation for the next century’s physical and educational infrastructure.

NTU Giving

Make a gift

Your contribution is highly valued as we strive to transform our university into a globally renowned institution.

For donors who contribute NT$10 million by 2028 (individuals, corporations, or through the alumni association), we will express our heartfelt appreciation by presenting them with the prestigious Centennial Contribution Award. As a gesture of gratitude, we will plant a tree in the Centennial Garden, accompanied by a plaque acknowledging their generosity.
